Human Studies 17: 483–485, 1994–1995.

Human Studies

Contents of Volume 17 1994–1995

Volume 17, No. 1, January 1994

Special Issue
Phenomenology in Communication Research
Guest editor: L. Langsdorf

L. Langsdorf, Introduction 1

I. Angus, A blank sheet of paper: The phenomenological foundation of comparative media theory 9

S. Deetz, The micro-politics of identity formation in the workplace: The case of knowledge intensive firm 23

M. Huspek, Critical ethnography and subjective experience 45

K. M. Langellier, Appreciating phenomenology and feminism: Researching quiltmaking and communication 65

L. Langsdorf, 'I like to watch:' Analyzing a participation-and-denial phenomenon 81

R. L. Lanigan, Capta versus data: Method and evidence in communicology 109

C. O. Schrag and R. E. Ramsey, Method and phenomenological research: Humility and commitment in interpretation 131

A. R. Smith, Phrasing, linking, judging: Communication and critical phenomenology 139

Contributors 163

Announcements 167

Volume 17, No. 2, April 1994

D. Low, The foundations of Merleau-Ponty's ethical theory 173

D. Videla, On the narratives of science: The critique of modernity in Husserl and Heidegger 189

A. J. Steinbock, Homelessness and the homelessness movement: A clue to the problem of intersubjectivity 203

K. Bonner, Hermeneutics and symbolic interactionism: The problem of solipsism 225

N. G. Hartland, Goffman's attitude and social analysis 251

Views and reviews section

Review essays

W. J. Buxton, Academic dispute or clash of commitments? The Schutz–Parsons exchange reconsidered 267

J. Cogan, A place for emotion in critical study 277

Erratum to Richard L. Lanigan, "Capta versus data: Method and evidence in communicology", Human Studies 17: 109–130, 1994 285

Volume 17, No. 3, July 1994

E. Kohák, Being human, more or less 287

G.J. Hayim, Postmodern tendencies in the sociology of Luhmann 307

R.A. Davilla and J.C. Pearson, Children's perspectives of the family: A phenomenological inquiry 325

D.M. Levin, Making sense: The work of Eugene Gendlin 343

K. Liberman, Knowing and being: Eugene Gendlin's experience 355

L.J. Hatab, Human nature in a postmodern world: reflections on the work of Eugene Gendlin 363

J. Wallulis, The complexity of bodily feeling 373

E.T. Gendlin, Response 381

Call for Papers 401

Volume 17, No. 4, 1994–1995

D. Carr, The question of the subject: Heidegger and the transcendental tradition 403–418

A.T. Nuyen, Critique of ideology: Hermeneutics or critical theory? 419–432

G.J. Hinkle, Postmodern feminist reflections on reading Wolff 433–448

B. Dov Lerner, The materialist mentality revisited 449–459

Views and Reviews 461

M. Connolly, Response and commentary on Iris Young's Throwing like a girl and other essays in feminist philosophy and social theory 463–469

G. Weiss, Creative agency and fluid images: A review of Iris Young's Throwing like a girl and other essays in feminist philosophy and social theory 471–478

Announcements 479–482

Contents of Volume 17 483–485

Index of Authors 485

Index of Authors

Angus, A., 9
Bonner, K., 225
Buxton, W. J., 267
Carr, D., 403
Cogan, J., 277
Connolly, M., 463
Davilla, R. A., 325
Deetz, S., 23
Dov Lerner, B., 449
Gendlin, E. T., 381
Hartland, N. G., 251
Hatab, L. J., 363
Hayim, G. J., 307
Hinkle, G. J., 433
Huspek, M., 45
Kohák, E., 287
Langellier, K. M., 65
Langsdorf, L., 1, 81
Lanigan, R. L., 109
Levin, D. M., 343
Liberman, K., 355
Low, D., 173
Nuyen, A. T., 419
Pearson, J. C., 325
Ramsey, R. E., 131
Schrag, O. G., 131
Smith, A. R., 139
Steinbock, A. J., 203
Videla, D., 189
Wallulis, J., 373
Weiss, G., 471